PROMINENT ECONOMISTS AND SCIENTISTS AT CONVENTION

HUNDREDS OF PROMINENT SCIENTIFIC MEN FROM ALL PARTS OF THE GLOBE ATTENDING ANNUAL MEETING NOW BEING HELD IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 29.—Prominent economists, sociologists, scientists, educators and labor leaders from all over the country are gathered here to attend the convention of the American Economic Association, American Association for Labor Legislation, American Statistical Association, American Political Science Association, American Sociological Association, and the American Home Economics Association, which opened in this city yesterday.

Unusual interest is manifested in the session of the American Association for Labor Legislation, where resolutions will be adopted urging action by congress and the various state legislatures on their legislative program, which will include the prohibition of poisonous phosphorus in the manufacture of matches; investigation of industrial injuries; and the enforcement of labor laws.

"We feel confident that prompt action will be taken by some of these matters," said John B. Andrews, secretary of the organization, "and the association at the present time has a bill before congress which is designed to put a prohibitive tax upon matches made with poisonous phosphorus, and as President Taft has urged legislation on this subject in his annual message, we feel sure congress will pass the measure. Nine European countries, and the United States, have already enacted laws to the purpose of studying labor conditions all over the world. As a member of this body, we are entitled to the results of their experiments, which are exceedingly valuable."

ENTRANCE PLANS FILED BY G.T.P. SETTLE DISPUTE

Rumored C.N.R. and G.T.P. Will Use Calgary Barracks Grounds for Freight Depots

Calgary, Dec. 29.—Plans for the entrance of the Grand Trunk Pacific branch into Calgary have been filed with the railway commission at Ottawa, and their entrance is shown as follows:

Crossing Bow river 200 feet north of the C.P.R. main line bridge, run north across Col. Walker's estate, cutting Franklin avenue between Gordon and Methuen streets, crossing Ninth avenue where the C. and E. branch cuts that street, following the southwest bank of the Bow as far as the bridge across the river at Twelfth street east, thence in a westerly direction to the R.N.W.M.P. barracks, between Sixth and Seventh avenues.

There is a story that the C.N.R. and G.T.P. will use the barracks ground for freight depots, and that the C.N.R. will have an exclusive right of entrance via the Elbow river. This will mean that the C.N.R. station will be erected on First street west.

General Secretary of St. John's Ambulance Association Is Now Touring the Dominion

The king has written to say by his secretary that he is much pleased with the progress of the St. John's order in Canada. Capt. Birdwell, general secretary, will leave for his tour shortly to organize provincial branches in the western provinces.

Reported in Ottawa That Mayors of All Canadian Cities Are to Be Knighted

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 30.—The report emanating from Ottawa that the mayors of all the different cities throughout Canada would have the honor of knighthood conferred on them at the coming coronation is taken here with more than the provincial grant of similar honors were conferred before the coronation of the late King Edward, but as is well known, no such action followed.

PROPHCY WAR

St. Petersburg, Russia, Dec. 30.—A war between China and Japan, with America siding the Chinese, is predicted today by the newspaper "The Morning Post" as a result of strained relations between the two Oriental powers and publishes Vladivostok "domino" or of effect that an early outbreak is expected there.

MUST NOT MARRY IN SIX MONTHS

Is the Bond That a Telegraph Operator Had to Give in Spokane

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 28.—When Miss Margaret Perkins went to work as telephone operator in a local hotel, today the management required her to give a bond not to marry within six months. This is the first time a married woman has been required to give a bond not to marry within six months, the hotel management required her to give a bond not to marry within six months. This is the first time a married woman has been required to give a bond not to marry within six months.

It is the reason for the unusual requirement by the hotel management is that a half dozen telephone operators have given bonds in the last six months, the last two being Miss Florence Joyce, who recently married a rancher, and Miss Olive Jarman, who has gone to Rockland, Mich., to join her intended husband.

"I am not going to marry any one nor do I expect to enter into an engagement during the coming six months," said Miss Perkins, a "contract" bride, "and for that reason my bondman has nothing to fear. Of course, I have received a proposition, but I am not ready to settle down for life."

The making of a bond is a matter of business with the management of the hotel, the operator continued. "It is more or less a trade every time a new operator is 'broken in,' the rule being that as soon as a girl becomes efficient she is desired to give a bond to join heart and hand with some mere man."

"I am not ready to be married, therefore the management has nothing to fear from me," said Perkins, a "contract" bride, "and for that reason my bondman has nothing to fear. Of course, I have received a proposition, but I am not ready to settle down for life."

Plans for the publicity work of the provincial government for the coming year will be considered by Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, on his return to the city tomorrow, when he will take into consideration several recommendations that are to be made by chief publicity commissioner Hotchkiss.

It is likely that the matter of opening publicity offices in St. Paul, or Chicago, or some other big centre in the United States, will be taken into consideration by the minister.

Exhibits will probably be maintained next year by the publicity department at the Dominion fair at Regina in July, and at the International Dairy Farming Congress, which takes place next year at Colorado Springs. It is also possible that exhibits may be sent to other points.

BRITISH SHIP'S EVENTFUL TRIP

Carried Snakes, Birds, Elephants and Rescued Cretaceous-Celestial Drive en Route

New York, Dec. 29.—Snakes by the dozens, none of them under twenty feet length; rare birds, apes, huge lizards, a thirty-six-inch elephant, rare birds, Japanese goldfish, and a record of having saved twenty-one persons from suicide all arrived here today on the British freighter Muncaster Castle from the Orient.

The rescue occurred just before the Muncaster Castle left the waters of the far east, 4,000 miles ago, when twenty men and a girl were taken from a distressed vessel that had been helplessly drifting for seventeen days. For thirty days those on board the derelict had nothing to eat or drink. The vessel had drifted 1,200 miles from the point of departure, and all those on board had been reduced to skeletons. The rescued twenty-one men and a girl, said Lieutenant. W. J. Donahue, chief officer of the Muncaster Castle, "the vessels had just left without paying any heed to their situation, and all were on the verge of insanity when they had just started to commit suicide," said Lieutenant. W. J. Donahue, chief officer of the Muncaster Castle, "the vessels had just left without paying any heed to their situation, and all were on the verge of insanity when they had just started to commit suicide."

Plenty of Python. A lot of python on board the Muncaster Castle when she left Oriental waters, but only one of the snakes survived the long voyage from the far east. The snakes, lizards, small animals, and the girl elephant had a bad time of it on the trip across the Pacific, when huge seas battered the freighter, tumbling over the sides and causing a great deal of trouble in the section of the vessel reserved for the passengers.

While in the Straits of Malacca one of the Chinese stokers went into the galley and saw the snakes. Then he rushed on deck, alerted the other stokers, and they gathered over the sides, shouting that sharks had no terror for him, and drove into the sea. Second Officer W. J. Donahue ordered a boat to be lowered and a volunteer crew rescued the Chinese man, much against his will, and brought him safely back to the steamer. The luckless stoker was overboard with his thirty-six-inch elephant in the stockhold, who considered he had "bad joss" and regarded him with evil eyes.

BANDITS CAPTURED IN AN IDAHO TOWN

May Be the Henry Brothers Who 'Evaded Mounted Police' Last Fall

Calgary, Dec. 29.—Word of the capture of four armed bandits at Sand Point, Idaho, has been received here, and there are several reasons for believing that they are the Henry brothers, who were reported to have been shot by the supposed-to-be Henry desperadoes, whose appearance recently in the vicinity of Pincher Creek created such excitement, but who succeeded in escaping the mounted police and escaping through the mountains after a desperate chase, thence into British Columbia and away in the direction of Idaho.

It is thought the outlaws, after fleeing chased from the Canadian side, and having not been long enough here to make a haul, were becoming desperate and were forced to tackle smaller game than they had hitherto considered worthy of their shed. Thus they ran amuck.

CHANGE TRI-WEEKLY TRAIN TO A DAILY

Midnight Train Has Proven Popular With Business Men and Profitable to C.P.R.

With the anticipation that the train will be made a daily one, instead of a tri-weekly one, when it is resumed next year, the midnight tri-weekly train service on the C. and E. between Edmonton and Calgary will close for the winter, with the last train out of Edmonton Monday at midnight.

Business on the midnight train which has been brisk all summer and fall, has dropped off after the Christmas holidays, and the railway officials have decided to discontinue the service until spring.

It was stated at the railway office this morning that the train would likely be made a daily one when it was resumed in the spring. Since its inauguration on June 22 last, the service has been extremely popular with the business men of both cities, and the railway has obtained has justified a daily service.

GERMAN CRUISER SAILS FOR PONAPE

Will Investigate Report That Europeans Have Been Murdered by Natives

Tsing Tsa, China, Dec. 30.—The German cruiser Emden sailed today for Ponape, Caroline Islands, where it is reported an insurrection has occurred.

A despatch from Brisbane, Australia, last night, stated the natives in Ponape had revolted, and murdered four European and five friendly natives. The Caroline islands, together with the Western Carolines, were sold by Spain to Germany in 1899. They form a large archipelago, some 680 small islands in 48 groups, in the Pacific ocean, latitude 35 north, longitude 135 east.

The most important islands are Yap and Ponape. Copra is the chief export. There are several trading stations on the islands, the area of which is 560 square miles. The population is about 40,000.

Natives Are Loyal

Berlin, Dec. 30.—The Colonial office today received a message from the German governor of the Caroline islands, reporting his arrival at Ponape with 160 soldiers. He states that the insurgents do not exceed 50, and the natives, generally, are loyal.

ENGINEERS' CONVENTION CLOSED LAST EVENING

F. H. Oliver of Lethbridge Presented With Gold Watch by Members of Association

The annual convention of the Northwest Stationary Engineers convention closed last night, after two days session. G.T.P. DEFENDANT IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Action Brought in Supreme Court by Contractors and Wickham to Recover $66,000 Balance on Supplies

A suit against the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, in which is involved the sum of $66,000 and also some very important legal points, and which will require the attendance of General Manager Chamberlain of the railway company, and several other officials, is to come up for trial at the next sittings of the supreme court at Edmonton.

This is the action brought by Messrs. Alfred and Wickham, contractors, to recover $66,000, the balance of the cost of supplies they claim is due. In the year 1908 Messrs. Alfred and Wickham claim that they were asked to submit tenders on the construction of 100 miles of the main line of the G.T.P. near McLeod river. They claim that the tenders were submitted and that, on the understanding that they were to get the contract, were asked by the railway company to pay in sufficient supplies to carry them over the work, in order to make as early a start as possible in 1909. The supplies were put in at a cost, the contractors claim, of $66,000.

There is a point of law to be decided as to the legal interpretation of the word "supplies" and as to whether that interpretation includes machinery. After being charged with a writ of summons for examination, from one point of view, the contractors are asked to pay for the supplies, and the railway company, on several occasions, L. J. Chamberlain, general manager of the railway, was finally served for examination, during the sittings of the railway commission here in October.

Messrs. Alfred and Wickham are now living in the States. Frank Alfred, who at one time represented the Canadian White Company here, is now an agent of one of the big railways in the States, and will come to Edmonton next month to appear at the trial of the case.

MILLIONAIRE MEAT PACKER IN CITY

Trade Conditions Throughout Western Provinces Good, Says P. Burns

Pat Burns, Alberta's millionaire meat packer, is a guest at the Alberta today.

The cattle of the south country are far better this winter, than it was expected they would," said Mr. Burns, speaking to a Capital reporter this morning. "Nevertheless, many of them are being wintered farther north. I have many head wintering around Lethbridge, and east of that point."

Mr. Burns stated that his visit to the city was of no particular significance. "Trade conditions are good in the province, and all over the west," he said.

Mr. Burns commented on the convenience of the midnight train service. "I was in the country when it took five days to come from Calgary to Edmonton by stage. The fact that a man can go to bed in a comfortable berth in a train at Calgary and wake up next morning in Strathcona, transact his business and go back the same night, is a wonderful thing to think of, in view of what conditions were not so very long ago."

"The railways are doing wonderful things for this country."

INSURRECTION IN MEXICO AT AN END

Scheme for Draining 3,000,000 Acres Near Pass Mission May Be Discussed

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—Hon. Wm. Ogilvie, former governor of the Yukon, has returned from a survey trip on the Saskatchewan river and states that a large area of land in the vicinity of the Pass mission can be reclaimed for cultivation at comparatively small cost.

It is probable that a scheme for draining this area will be organized here, and the minister of the interior shortly. The scheme would affect 3,000,000 acres of land.

MIKADO WILL FIGHT THE RED PLAGUE

Taking Aggressive Measures to Stamp Out Socialism—Wide-spread Bomb Plot

Tokio, Dec. 29.—Since the discovery of the conspiracy against the Mikado—the first in the history of the Japanese empire—last month, the government has redoubled its efforts to stamp out Socialism and anarchism, of the "Red Plague," as it is called here. The Munchi Denpo, a Tokyo paper, says that a direct plot has come to light as a result of the examination of the prisoners, and the authorities have been very active, with a view to exterminate the Socialists, root and branch. The sale and circulation of some 50 weeks relating to Socialism has been prohibited, and even the stereotypes of these books are destroyed, while second-hand booksellers have been raided and all such works found there seized.

There is an interview with Mr. Okada, assistant superintendent general of the metropolitan police, on the campaign against Socialism.

"Since the discovery of the recent bomb plot it has been ascertained that Socialists had on foot a plot of the most nature."

"Have any dangerous ideas come in from abroad?"

"I do not know where they have come from, but the ideas held are extreme and dangerous in the highest degree."

"What are the details of their plot?"

"I have been told that the object of the bomb plot lately discovered was to perpetrate murder by means of bombs. Are the Socialists daring enough to effect such a bold move?"

"I can tell whether they would be so daring, but there seems to be no doubt that they had such a plot on foot."

"Perhaps the plot is not on any large scale. Is it?"

"With the troops and the police force in Tokyo it would be impossible for them to attain their object by carrying out a plot on a small scale, working only a little damage or destruction of life. Are they not lacking in sense?"

"The lack of sense in them makes them all the more dangerous."

"How many persons suspected of Socialism are being watched by the authorities?"

"The list would be voluminous if the fraternity in the whole country is taken together. In Tokyo alone there are about a hundred."

"How many are considered to be leaders?"

"About twenty."

"What has been done with that number?"

"They are almost all under arrest."

"Do you think the menace to the government presented by them can be overruled in the present condition of affairs?"

"The authorities cannot remain at ease while Socialists are so extreme in their views and are so numerous, but I believe the danger has almost entirely been averted by the arrests so far made."

"What is the reason of the authorities for seizing even old Socialist publications?"

"For the purpose of exterminating Socialism in this country root and branch."

"I read in the Yuijo Tsusin (Women's Intelligence) that the authorities of the metropolitan police are so busy searching for Socialists that the existing staff is insufficient and that they have borrowed men from the municipality. Is this report correct?"

"That is all nonsense. The report is grossly erroneous."

"Are books treating of Socialism from a scientific point of view included among the books seized?"

"No, they are not included."

The Munchi Denpo gives a list of about 50 works suppressed. Included in the list are a speech by Keir Hardin, the Tokyo Journal remarks that police officers are busy visiting the book stores in the city, and searching for Socialistic works, the inquisitive eyes of the censor even scanning the waste paper market.

Another interview with a second-hand bookstore proprietor is published in certain papers. Says the second-hand dealer:

"Works on Socialism are not saleable as a rule, but when they are prohibited the public's interest is aroused and people procure them by stealth and read them from curiosity. As the proverb says, 'People are anxious to see anything dreadful.' Bookkeepers are apt to take advantage of this by concealing copies of the suppressed books and sell them privately, reaping a good profit thereby."

ACCESSORIES: The Calgary Albertan says: AFTER THE FACT

against him in the legislature was because no member had any charges to make.

Here is one of the worst pieces of stultification ever produced in an Alberta newspaper, and coming from the Albertan it comes as an unexpected shock.

From Mr. Cushing's point of view he undoubtedly pursued the safest course, both in the legislature and in the province. With his smug hypocrisy he sat in the house as long as he dared. When he saw the charges against him published and laid on the table of the house he fled to Calgary. When his Calgary supporters put it up to him to answer the charges or get out of the house he slunk back to Edmonton and going down to the house took his seat at an hour in the morning when the house was not in session. Next day there appeared in the Edmonton Bulletin as a concluding paragraph to the report of the proceedings of the legislature a statement to the effect that "Mr. Cushing was in his place in the legislature yesterday," the statement being meant to deceive Cushing's constituents into the belief that their member was attending the regular sessions of the house. The wording was true, as he had been there in the morning, but the intention which it was meant to convey was misrepresentation, as Mr. Cushing did not appear in the house during business hours, after the charges against him had been published in the Capital.

To say that the reason why no charges were brought against Cushing in the house was because no member had any charges to bring is also a lie. Cushing was never in the house after the charges were published for any member to bring any charges against him.

When the Calgary Albertan and the Edmonton Bulletin seek by the crude process of distorting the facts to cover up the circumstances that Cushing fled from the house in order to escape from charges which if proven might land him in the penitentiary they thereby cast upon themselves the position of accessories after the fact and are guilty of dishonesty and dishonor to exactly the same extent as Cushing is himself.

OIL FUEL WOULD SAVE THE FORESTS
Official investigation carried out by the railway commission shows that of the forest fires during the past season for which causes could be assigned 90 per cent. were started by sparks from locomotives.

Besides there were many fires for which no causes were assigned. It is safe to presume that the average destruction due to the railways was the same in cases where the causes were known as where they were not known.

This means that of the enormous destruction of forest wealth which goes on in Canada year after year, one third, amounting annually to an enormous total, could be absolutely prevented by the use of a fuel other than coal—a fuel which would not throw sparks.

The only commercially practicable fuel known to the railroading business at the present time which could satisfactorily displace coal is crude oil.

If the developments now being carried on at Morinville prove the existence of an oil field of the proportions which the interested parties believe to exist there the railway commissioners will have it within their power to save what is left of the forests on the mountain section at least by the simple method of ordering the railways to change over to oil fuel.

ABSOLUTE EXCLUSION THE ONLY REMEDY
The disclosures in connection with the customs department at Vancouver show pretty clearly that the generally accepted opinion on the Coast that a great many Chinese have been getting into the country in spite of the head tax is painfully true.

The census figures in the Chinese quarters of Coast cities is really all that is needed to prove that Chinese have been coming into Canada without paying the tax. All Chinese natives go back to China, dead or alive. As it is against the law of China for an emigrating Chinaman to take his wife along, except by special permit which the coolie class who come to Canada never get, there is practically no birth rate among the Chinese in Canada. By his reckoning the Chinese quarters of the Coast cities should be inhabited within a generation entirely by Chinese who had paid the head tax, or become entirely unpopulated.

The fact is, however, that the Chinese quarters have not decreased in population since the head tax was put on, but have increased while the number who have paid the tax is so small in proportion to the exodus to China, alive or dead, that there is no other explanation except that a contraband influx in constantly leaking in at the Pacific Coast ports.

Accepting it as an axiom that the Chinese with their plague spots, their opium, their filth, their licentiousness and their barbarism are not wanted, the Vancouver incident should show that if Canada is to be protected against them it cannot be done by a head tax, which is only an incentive to dishonesty on the part of the customs officials, but must be done by an absolute exclusion.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

Before starting the cruiser Rainbow off to Herschell Island to meet Earl Grey the navy department should weigh well the fact that some really first class whales have got into these waters at times and failed to get out.

Just at the time when the railway commission has come to the rescue with an order to reduce the price of sleeping car berths along comes the news that the railway porters have formed a union. What is the use?

"Canada," an illustrated publication in London, England, which purports to keep the investing public informed on Canadian affairs, says in reviewing Edmonton's municipal ownership experiment that the city went into the commissioner form of administration at the first of the year. According to some Edmontonians, the city of Edmonton is not on the commissioner system yet, but is merely using a counterfeiter. According to others it has been on the commissioner system for seven years. In either case, "Canada," is mixed in its chronology.

Some of the boys who woke with that acid taste after the Christmas celebration probably felt that the stuff had not been guaranteed under the pure food law.

THOSE WHO DO THE DAY'S WORK.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)
If there are corrupt men in office; if there are dishonest men in business; if there are thousands of inefficient blockers of other's progress, and thousands more who shift their burdens and shrink their duties, there are yet, thank God, still other thousands who are never wanting when they are weighed, who, in high places and low, are courageously doing the day's work faithfully, patiently and with a bravery never excelled by mortal man in any emergency.

On ships at sea, in engine cabs, on top of freight trains, in interlocking switch towers, at telegraph keys in a thousand places where danger or duty calls, stand faithfully men who hold the lives of thousands in their hands. In a myriad other places, less of trust than of danger, men are performing duties made necessary by our complex life, commonplace, oftentimes dangerous to the lives of those who do them. The switchman tagging at his stubborn lever frozen with snow, the telegraph lineman forty miles from a stove and ten from the rail head, hunting for "trouble" in a mountain canon where the twenty foot poles with their wires are buried in the drift, the R. F. D. man digging his rig and shivering horse out of snow banks in bleak mountain country, the "cop" on the beat—these are the "men" who, like us, are not, may be found stark in the snow by morning with a slug's bullet through his heart; the fireman whom we see sitting in a chair cooked back against the wall in this engine house today, tomorrow may be a battered, charred, unrecognizable remnant of humanity—these and a hundred others are performing duties as a matter of fact. "Well, that's what they're paid for!"

Hint for Magazine Editors.
(Letter from a Chinese editor returning a contribution. From E. V. Lucas, New York, "The Second Post.")
Illustrations—Behold thy servant prostrate before thy feet. I kowtow to thee and beg that of thy graciousness thou mayest grant that I may speak and fire. Thy honored manuscript has been assigned to cast the light of its august countenance upon me. With raptures I have perused it. By the bones of my ancestors, never have I encountered such, such pathos, such lofty thoughts. With fear and trembling I return the writing. Were I to publish the treasure you sent me the emperor would order that it should be made the standard, and that none be published except such as equalled it. Knowing literature as I do, and that it would be impossible in 10,000 years to equal what you have done, I send your writing back. Ten thousand times I crave your pardon. Be bold my heart is at your feet. Do what you will. Your servant's servant.

Smoke Prevention in England.
(From U. S. Consul Charles N. Daniels, Sheffield.)
A smoke consumer and fuel economizer, the invention of a Rotherham man, was successfully demonstrated in that city in the latter part of October in the presence of a number of members and officials of the Rotherham corporation. The inventor has been at work on the problem of smoke prevention for twenty years and claims to have arrived at its solution.

Coal was fed into the furnace of a boiler generating steam for running the works, with the usual result the emission of black smoke from the chimney; then the "consumer" was put into operation and the effect was at once apparent. In the place of the black deluge there was only a slight trace of the products of combustion.

The change is effected by an arrangement of a series of devices so placed in the flues as to intercept the smoke and cause it to be ignited by the flames of the fire. Two air circulators are so placed as to allow the desired quantity of external air to be circulated among these devices, causing the smoke to be properly ignited and consumed around the boiler flues before entering the chimney.

There is nothing to get out of order, an dthe claim is that a saving of fuel is effected. An important claim is that the apparatus can be affixed during a week end to almost any type of boiler. As to fuel economy, the experimenters are not yet completed.

As an instance of acute hydrophobia it is difficult to surpass the story of the Scotch boatsman who while crossing a loch, was asked if he would take some water with his whiskey, and replied: "Na, there was a horse drowned at the head of the loch two years ago." The head of the loch was twenty-four miles distant.

Cynicus: "It is impossible for a woman to keep a secret."
Henpecker: "I don't know about that; my wife and I were engaged for several weeks before she said anything to me about it."

THE ORIGIN OF PRUNES
Old Adam was a gardener. He planted him a tree, And said, "Well, see in course of time, What like the fruit will be."

He nursed the tender plantlet Till tall and strong it grew, Fit to withstand the icy blasts, Which every winter blew.

In spring the tree was covered With blossoms, dazzling white The flowers dropped off, but Adam Said, "Sure, that part's alright."

He picked the fruit in autumn, And stored it till the spring, And then to Eve one day he said, "For lunch some plums please bring."

So Eve, she skipped to the cellar, And set them out on a table, The family sat down to lunch, The old folks, Cain and Abel.

But when old Adam saw the fruit, His eyes grew like two moons, He said, "Eve! Why, look, my dear, The dish is full of prunes."

And thus was started in this world, That greatest of crimes, the eating of the fruit of the tree of life; The noble dish of prunes.

DON'T FEEL BLUE
Oh! I like to hear a fellow who will whistle at his work, I like to hear a worker who will hum a little tune; I feel a fellow who will sing, why he isn't so apt to break, He can sing a break December into mild and merry June.

What's the use of feeling blue; There's no harm in here for you, Life is mostly what you make it; make it merrily and true; Care will not often run away, If he finds you're getting gay, Open-up your music, brother, an' by thunder, let it play!

There's enough in gloom, an' sorrow as it is, and that is true, Lots as it is; imagine; you kin whistle it away; When you feel the trouble skulkin' in the lots behind a tree Let him see you're merry hearted; put your record on an' play.

What's the use of feeling blue; Nature's happy like an' true, Help the world to be more cheerful an' 'twill do the same for you; Blue isn't right in the sky, All right in a maiden's eye, But don't get it in your system; it will kill all joy and love.

DIAMOND RING DISAPPEARS
X-Rays to be Applied to Man Believed to Have Swallowed It.
New York, Dec. 29.—Suspecting that he swallowed a stolen diamond ring, the Jersey City police will have under arrest for the theft. The ring, X-rays applied to John Miller, who is valued at $70, was received as a Christmas gift by a Jersey City business man, who was proudly showing it to some friends in a downtown restaurant when it suddenly vanished. Miller was arrested. The ring was not found on him, but it was decided that, as his articulation was constructed for a few minutes while being interrogated, he had swallowed the ring.

Mr. Brown (rushing excitedly into the room): "Mary, Mary; intelligence has just reached me."
Mrs. Brown (calmly interrupting him): "Well, thank heaven, Henry."

..ENT ROUND AND ROUND

Thief Seeks Escape From Broadway Policeman in Revolving Door.

New York, Dec. 29.—A thief led a Broadway policeman a hard 15 minutes' chase round and round a revolving door in an uptown office building late last night. The policeman was almost at the fellow's heels when he dashed into the office doorway. They whirled round and round, the thief's idea evidently being that his pursuer would soon become dizzy, and be unable to keep up the pursuit. But after a few minutes or "squirrel act" the door flew off its hinges and threw a policeman and the accused together in a heap on the sidewalk.

So Eve, she skipped to the cellar, And set them out on a table, The family sat down to lunch, The old folks, Cain and Abel.

But when old Adam saw the fruit, His eyes grew like two moons, He said, "Eve! Why, look, my dear, The dish is full of prunes."
